Will Try To Force Issuance of Permit

Portland, Ore., Nov. 5.—As a result of the refusal of Corporation Commissioner Schulderman to issue a permit for the organization of a corporation to build and maintain a maternity hospital for unfortunate wayward girls of Portland, for which purpose the late Henry Wenner, left property valued at $355,000, will result in court action, it was announced today.

Attorneys for the executors of Wenner's estate will file suit for a writ of mandamus at Salem tomorrow asking that Schulderman be compelled to issue the permit.

Schulderman denied the permit unless fees of regular business corporations were paid. The executors hold that it will be a charitable institution and as such is required to pay a fee of $5 only.

Wenner's will specified that after the hospital has been established for three years it is to be turned over to the Christian Science churches of Portland.

TO BUILD LABOR TEMPLE.

Portland, Ore., Nov. 5.—An option was taken on a down town lot by the Affiliated Labor Unions of Portland today on which it is planned to build a labor temple to cost $100,000.

BRYAN OBJECTS TO PRESIDENT'S MILITARY IDEAS

Plan Is Departure From Traditions and Change of National Policies

WHY INDORSE EUROPE BY IMITATING HER FOLLY?

"Speak Softly But Carry a Big Stick" Is a Misleading Delusive Maxim

Washington, Nov. 5.—Signs of a break between President Wilson and his former Premier W. J. Bryan over the administration defense program became unmistakable today. Bryan declared he viewed the president's New York speech on preparedness with "sorrow and concern."

"The president is doing what he believes is his duty but I feel it my duty to dissent," Bryan declared. "We cannot criticize his motives as he has given his views with clearness and emphasis, but those who differ with him are under a like obligation to express themselves with equal clearness."

"The president will not assume that he is more deeply interested in the country's welfare than the millions who elected him temporarily to be their spokesman."

"If he giving voice to his countrymen's opinion, he is anxious to have them frank with him as he has been with them. How otherwise can he know whether he represents or misrepresents their views?"

A False Philosophy.

"The plan he proposes is not only a departure from our traditions, but a reversal of national policy. It is not only a menace to our peace and safety but a challenge to the spirit of Christianity which teaches us to influence others by example rather than by exciting fear."

"It is a false philosophy. From its falsity, it inevitably leads into difficulty. The spirit which makes an individual carry a revolver, leads him not to use it on slight provocation but to use language which will provoke."

"Speak softly but carry a big stick" is the delusive maxim employed by those who put their faith in force. There are two answers to it. First, the man who speaks softly hasn't the disposition to carry a club. Second, if the man with the soft voice is persuaded to carry a club, his voice changes as soon as he begins to rely on the club.

"Why reverse our policy now? The president admits there is no reason for the change. He says 'the country is not threatened from any quarter; he stands in friendly relation with all the world.'"

"To make the statement more emphatic he adds:

"There is no fear among us."

Why Change Our Policy?

"If we are not threatened, if relations with all nations are friendly, if everybody knows we are able to defend ourselves if necessary, if there is no fear among us, why then is this time chosen to revolutionize the national theory and exchange our policy for that of Europe? Why abandon the hope we have long entertained of setting an example for Europe?"

"Why encourage the nations of Europe in their folly by imitating them?"

"Why impose upon the western hemisphere a policy so disastrous?"

"Do we not expect all Latin America to be stimulated to preparation? Will not such a policy make conflicts between these republics more probable?"

Will Do Infinite Harm.

"We will do infinite harm to our neighbors as well as to ourselves if we are drawn into this policy which involves war by preparation which is impossible without a large increase of taxation. We are now spending more than $225,000,000 yearly on preparedness—ten times what we are spending on agriculture. I feel sure the taxpayers will not favor increasing this when the change is not only unnecessary but a menace to our national ideals. There has not been a time in recent years when there was less reason to add to the expenses of the army and navy, for we are not only without an enemy but our preparedness is increasing rapidly, as other nations exhaust themselves. There never was a time in our history when our duty to the world more imperatively demanded self restraint and the counsels of peace."

"I hope the president will not be deceived by the atmosphere of the Manhattan club (where he spoke last night). This is the one place in America where the mammoth-worshiping portion of the democratic party meet to exchange compliments. There is no group further removed from the sentiment of the masses, whether you measure that sentiment by economic, social or religious standards."

Wilson Made No Comment.

New York, Nov. 5.—President Wilson today declined to comment on former Secretary of State Bryan's arraignment of his preparedness speech. The executive obtained the first intimation of the Bryan attack from the United Press when he was read a summary of the Washington dispatch at the St. Regis hotel before going to the Cleveland Dodge home for luncheon with his fiancée, Mrs. Norman Galt.

Those closest to the president, however, pointed out that he had anticipated just such attacks when in last night's speech he said:

"If men differ with me on this vital

"A Moving Tale" Due To Salem's Growth

Evidently desirable business rooms are hard to find in Salem, as several of the tenants of the McGilchrist corner, who are obliged to move by next Wednesday, are having difficulties in securing desirable locations.

W. W. Johns, whose harness and shoe shop adjoins the Bligh Hotel, will remove to 174 South Liberty street.

H. Ashford, proprietor of the shooting gallery, is not decided as to his location, but may leave the city.

C. J. Fillett, who owns the cigar store just west of the shooting gallery has found no desirable location.

The shoe repairing shop of J. R. Pollock will take quarters in the Waters' building on State street, opposite the Ladd & Bush bank.

W. C. Harris, proprietor of the barber shop on the corner, has not decided on a location.

The Larmer Transfer Company will probably move its office to the Oswald shoe repairing shop, on South Liberty.

A. E. Hoffman, candy, confectionery and cigars, on Liberty street, has found no suitable location.

M. Dolan, shoes and shoe repairing has several store rooms in view, but as yet has not decided where he will locate.

Mrs. H. P. Scibb, in the millinery business, is undecided as yet, as to a future location.

The McGilchrist corner is in an exact square, with 82 1-2 feet on State street and the same on Liberty. It is part of the original town site dedicated by the Rev. William Willson, March 22, 1850, and is known on the city plats as the west half of lot 5, block 21, City of Salem.

Matter, I will ask them to make clear how far and how they are interested in making the country's permanent interests safe against disturbance."

If your grocer put sand in your sugar to avoid charging you an advance in price, and excused himself on the ground of fear of losing your custom—what would you think of him?

If your clothier substitutes mercerized cotton cloths in place of wool, and does not tell you of the change—what do you think of him?

Woolens are advancing in price, and another season you will pay a little more for good clothes, but today we are offering the best values in our business history. New Winter Suits and Overcoats at $15, $20, $25, $30

Yes, it's trouble to show you,—but it's the kind of trouble we are desirous of having.

BLANCHE SWEET IN "THE CASE OF BECKY"

Blanche Sweet, Carlyle Blackwell, Theodore Roberts and James Neill are the "four names that head the cast for the Lasky-Belasco production of Edward Locke's famous drama, "The Case of Becky," which will be the attraction at the Grand theatre today and Saturday.

Never before has Blanche Sweet been seen in a role similar to the one she plays in this photodrama. When "The Case of Becky" was produced by David

HAMMOND-BISHOP CO.

Leading Clothiers

The Toggery 167 Com'l St.

Belasco, as a drama, it caused a sensation in the theatre-going world. Not since the days of "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" has a play of dual personality been presented to the public. And when the victim of the two-self is a young girl, especially of Miss Sweet's charm and ability, the announcement that the photodrama will be seen here is one of unusual interest.

As the quiet and winsome Dorothy, Miss Sweet wins a host of friends; but when her personality changes before the eye into the malicious and disagreeable Becky, the audience is at a loss as to what is going to happen.

The character is an unusual one and is considered by those who have seen the photodrama to be the best in which Blanche Sweet has ever appeared.

Supported by the three splendid artists whose names are given, each a star in his own right, and the other members of the Lasky all-star stock company, gives the film version of this sensational play a degree of excellence rarely attained by any motion picture production.

Bertha Grant and Mabel De Heerde the original Hawaiian Hula Dancers are a big feature with the Punch Jones Rag Time Opera Minstrels that will be at the Bligh theatre Sunday and Monday. They carry an elaborate special drop for their act that has proven one of the big hits over the Pantage time The Hula Hula dance is considered one of the most artistic classic dances of the day and when staged as it should be lends a pretty picture to the eye. The music is tuneful and very catchy and no doubt will be well received during the action of the play.

GERMANY DID NOT ASK IT.

Berlin, Nov. 5.—Denying that it had ever asked Brand Whitlock's retirement as American representative in Belgium, the government today declared there was "no reason for doing so as neither his personality nor activities had caused dissatisfaction."

Whitlock took part in trying to prevent execution of Miss Edith Cavell, English woman.

There never is a last rose of summer, as there never is a last strawberry since horticulturists got busy.
